

Public Universities

Kentucky's four-year public universities have many sources of financial aid. KHEAA contacts these universities every year so we can publish the most up-to-date information about their programs, which are described in this section.

In addition to the programs listed under each university, all of Kentucky's public universities participate in the following state and federal student aid programs:

State: College Access Program Grant, Kentucky National Guard programs, Vocational Rehabilitation, Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship, Public Child Welfare Certificate Program Scholarship, and state waivers. Detailed information about these programs can be found in the State Government section.

Federal: Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Federal Direct Loan, Federal PLUS Loan, Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant, Veterans Administration programs and Federal Work-Study. Detailed information about these programs can be found in the Federal Government section.

Martin-Gatton College of Agriculture, Food and Environment

For all CAFE scholarships, entering freshmen must apply by January 15, and continuing/transfer students must apply by March 1. Students who complete the College of Agriculture, Food and Environment scholarship application are considered for all listed scholarships for which they meet appropriate criteria.

Eligibility: In addition to any criteria under a specific scholarship, must be a full-time student and major in the College of Agriculture, Food and Environment.

Award: Varies, based on budgets each year, but typical awards range from $750–$2,000 for the academic year. Awards are automatically credited to the student's financial aid account with the university and are split evenly between the fall and spring semesters of the academic year. Awards are for 1 year, and students must reapply each year.

Brandeis School of Law

Brandeis Law offers scholarship funding to incoming students to help defer the cost of attendance. Applicants are automatically considered for all available institutional scholarship funding with no separate application required. While not the only factors considered by the Admissions Committee in allocating scholarship funding, an applicant's LSAT score and undergraduate GPA will be strongly taken into account. Brandeis Law does not consider financial need in making scholarship determinations.

Scholarship determinations are made on a rolling basis as part of the admissions process. Applicants should be mindful of any deadlines established for the cycle in which they apply, which may affect the availability or allocation of institutional scholarship funding.

In addition to institutional scholarships, Brandeis Law is proud to offer various fellowship opportunities:
